Meffert went to New York to arouse relatives, New York being his home.

He says that Gotham will be represented by many crack swimmers and divers. "The followers of acquatics in New York are enthusiastic over the

For ten minutes the fam, cheered Shay, and all were unanimous in declaring it the fastest fielding stunt ever pulled off at League Park.

It was not the only good play Shay made in the first game, for he accepted the seven chances sent his way without the semblance of an error.

Boston owes, its victory in the first game to the magnificent pitching of Pittinger. His work was reliable and steady throughout, and he had the local hitters at sea, especially when hits meant runs.

After the accound inning Pittinger settled down and the Cardinals were at his mercy for the following twelve linnings.

O'Neill was hit much oftener than Pittinger, but his fielders supported him in magnificent fashion.

cais runless, but in the sixth, a single by Shay, Shannon's sacrifice and Brain's single gave to the locals a run.

A remarkable catch by Wilhelm of a line drive from Barclay's bat in the second inning kept the locals from scoring. In the fourth inning Boston got men on second and third base, but Nichols forced Wilhelm out on an easy infield tap. In the sixth inning Nichols fanned Delehanty and Raymer. The locals got men on bases in the first, second, third, fourth and fifth inning, but failed to score.

The eighth inning was the only period when one of the bases were not occupied by a local player.

In the Ininth inning St. Louis got a man as far as second, but a double play by Geier and Abhatichlo prevented the locals from scoring.

Brain was the star of the second game, bave getting three hits out of four times up, and accepting six of the seven chances sent Into his territory.

Raymer played an excellent fielding game for the Bostons.

They will be at the Stadium to-day and will try out in their events. Saedigar, the sprinter who made a favorable showing here during the A. A. U. games in June, will try in the short runs. Carey who is with the team, is a quarter-nuller and is said to have done fast work on the coast. The third man is a long-distance runner, W. R. Garcia. Alfred Plaw, the mighty hammer throw-ser, who started out with this team, was compelled to return to his home, owing to illness, which he contracted on the way to St. Louis. He will not compete in the syents. events. Felix Caruaja, the little Cuban distance runser, who has entered the Marathon race, was at the Stadium yesterday and ran about twenty-three miles with few stops. He is rather small and looks anything but an athlete or runner and runs flat-footed.

He carries a steel rod that weighs two and a half pounds and says that this aids aim in running. He holde on to it with both hands while under way. Although American followers do not approve of the Cuban's way of running, he says that he already has the prize in the little pocket on his shirt, and he points to this as he says so. He was formerly a mail carrier in the island during the war and says that he has run more than 150 miles in a single day. He will depend upon his staying power more than speed in the race.

Settlement of Butcher's Bill.

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 24.-John A. Drake's horses were attached here to-day for a butcher bill which the Chicago milgave bonds to have the horses released gave bonds to have the horses released and served notice that he would fight the claims of the butcher in court.

The action of Butcher McGee was not unexpected. He had trouble vesterday with Woodford Clay, the young Kentucky trainer and owner, when he presented his bill for mest. His claim against Clay was $5. The amount was declared by Clay to be excessive.

When Clay demurred at the bill and talked about not paying, it, a county official stepped up and mentioned, incidentally, that he had a writ of attachment in his possession which he would serve against the horses unless the bill was settled. Clay then paid under protest.

To-day McGee presented a bill to Drake, who considered the claim so excessive that he refused point blank to pay it. Thereunon the Deputy Sheriff, who accompanied McGee, came to the front with the attachment, and locked the horses belonging to Drake in their stalls.
